BATTELLE MEDIA ADVISORY

Battelle's contribution for STEM education in Akron to be announced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (June 21, 2014) - Representatives from Battelle will visit the National Inventors Hall of Fame® School...Center for Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) Learning in Akron to announce a contribution of more than $20,000 to further support STEM education in the region. Following the announcement, local STEM leaders will join in an open discussion of strategies and resources for expanding STEM in the region.

Thanks to partnerships with Akron Public Schools, the University of Akron, the City of Akron, the Greater Akron Chamber/Akron Tomorrow and Invent Now, among numerous other area businesses and leaders, this funding will further efforts made by the Ohio STEM Learning Network (OSLN) - Akron Hub to advance STEM education to impact students and encourage the development of innovative cross-sector partnerships. The donation is part of more than $150,000 being donated by Battelle this year to further STEM learning across Ohio.
